A LINK OF EMPIRE.

ON Empire Day a very interesting meeting was held at the headquarters of the Overseas Club in London. It is less than seven years ago that a movement was started which has since grown into a link of Empire that should have more than satisfied the hopes and vision of its founders. The idea was that Britons overseas, and especially those in the most distant corners of the world, should be more closely linked up with the Mother Country, and reminded that they are citizens of a very great Empire. The club was to be a fellowship of all those who called the British Islands "Home." The members merely had to subscribe to the common creed—"Believing the British Empire to stand for justice, freedom, order, and good government, we pledge ourselves, as citizens of the greatest Empire in the world, to maintain the heritage handed down to us by our fathers"—and they had a little badge, the monogram of the club, by which fellow-members would be able to recognise each other, wherever they might be. In these few years the club already counts 150,000 members. The propaganda of the fraternity—for it is really more than a club—is simple, direct, and typically English. All those to whom the Empire was something more than a name were invited to remember:—

> "We sailed wherever ship could sail.
> We founded many a mighty state.
> Pray God our greatness may not fail
> Through craven fears of being great—"

and the founders knew that if these thoughts were kept in mind by their members their acts would necessarily help to accomplish the objects of the fraternity.

How well they are remembered can be judged from the really wonderful figures announced by Lord Northcliffe in moving the adoption of the club's annual report. The outbreak of war was the touchstone to prove the vitality and strength of the club, which has raised many funds for patriotic purposes. For the provision of tobacco for the home and overseas troops £226,000 has been raised. For the purchase of aeroplanes for the R.F.C. the club has collected funds from the most distant parts not only of the Empire, but wherever British communities exist. At this meeting it was announced that the hundredth machine had now been paid for, and a cheque was handed by Mr. Walter Long, Secretary of State for the Colonies, to Sir David Henderson. The total funds raised for this purpose already exceed £150,000. The Soldiers' and Sailors' Fund has collected £30,000, and the Club's Red Cross Fund £23,000. In fact, the tangible expression of the patriotism of this world-wide brotherhood of citizens of the British Empire was shown in the announcement that the united collections of the club are now amounting to some £5,000 every week.

The credit for the conception of this truly Imperial club, and for its rapid growth and admirable organisation, is due to Lord Northcliffe and his able assistant, Mr. Evelyn Wrench. In addressing the members of the club present, the Secretary of State for the Colonies expressed the gratitude of the Government in terms seldom, if ever, previously addressed by a Cabinet Minister to a private organisation. He said that "the club has already done its full share in laying the foundations of that greater Empire which we all intend and hope to see as one of the results of the war"; and, in expressing his special pleasure at being present at the annual meeting of the Overseas Club and having the opportunity of giving his personal testimony to the importance of the great Imperial work done by Lord Northcliffe and those who assisted him in the organisation of the club, he declared his belief that its work "will be to get rid of the old lip service which for so long did duty here as a sufficient testimony to the value of the Overseas Dominions."

Lord Meath, the originator of Empire Day in Britain, was present at this meeting, and, in a speech of great feeling, expressed the satisfaction with which he had seen those Imperial hopes he had so long proclaimed now so much nearer realisation, owing to recent constitutional events. He bore testimony to the great work done by Lord Northcliffe in having created a public opinion "which had gone far to bring about the results we see to-day," and he expressed the hope that the words uttered that day by the Secretary of State for the Colonies—which he described as having "the true Imperial ring"—might go forth throughout the Empire to unite it still more.

In addition to the raising of large sums of money for most important patriotic purposes, the Overseas Club is now devoting its influence and activities towards forming sound public opinion, both here and in the Dominions, in regard to securing the most satisfactory openings for soldiers and sailors after the war in whatever part of the Empire they may decide to make their home. This object the wide ramifications of the Overseas Club, with its great network of active branches, can materially assist. The unique success of the club is very largely due to the wise organisation which established and fostered branches all over the world. In connection with this, one of the secrets of success was disclosed at the meeting when Lord Northcliffe mentioned that the club's great organisation had been largely built up by the personal visits of Mr. Evelyn Wrench, the chief organiser, to many parts of the Empire, where he addressed between 400 and 500 meetings in the chief centres of population.

NO IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

IN his important statement at Westminster on May 17 Mr. Lloyd George made an announcement which he rightly described as a memorable landmark in the constitutional history of the British Empire. This was that the meetings of an Imperial Cabinet—so successfully inaugurated this year—will be held annually, or at any intermediate time when matters of urgent Imperial concern require to be settled. In this way the Prime Ministers or other representatives of the Overseas Dominions will be able to obtain full information about all aspects of Imperial affairs, and to determine by consultation together the policy of the Empire in its most vital aspirations, "without infringing in any degree the autonomy which its parts at present enjoy."

Mr. Lloyd George made it clear that just as the Empire's constitutional development has been of the most elastic nature in the past, so is it to remain in the future. The whole question of "perfecting the mechanism for 'continuous consultation'" between the "autonomous nations of an Imperial Commonwealth," will be reserved for the consideration of the special conference which will be summoned as soon as possible after the war to readjust the constitutional relations of the Empire. Sir Robert Borden, however, made it clear in his speech on the floor of the House at Ottawa that there was not the least likelihood of the establishment of an Imperial Parliament, such as has been so often advocated—a proposal which he himself characterised as "unfeasible and unwise."

The minutes of the Imperial War Conference, just published as a Blue Book, reveal how little the taking of such a step is favoured by the other statesmen of the Empire who attended the meetings. As Mr. Lloyd George suggested, anything threatening to interfere with the autonomy of the self-governing Dominions is regarded with distrust. While Mr. Massey believes that such an arrangement will develop in course of time, he thinks it would be a mistake at the present juncture to attempt too much. In pointing out that the resolution favouring annual meetings negatived the idea of a Federal solution, General Smuts expressed the opinion that this was a very wise course, because, in his view, the circumstances of the Empire entirely preclude the Federal solution. To attempt to run even the common concerns of the group of nations composing the Empire by means of a Central Parliament and a Central Executive is, to his mind, to court disaster. Sir Edward Morris also favoured leaving open to some future conference to discuss the possibilities of consultative machinery. Sir Joseph Ward, on the other hand, does not believe that the question of an Empire Parliament presents insuperable difficulties, and holds that it is the only satisfactory remedy for the legislative congestion at Westminster. Only, however, by absolute unanimity—such as is plainly lacking to-day—could such a sweeping constitutional change be brought about.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

Conscription in Canada. The conscription issue in Canada is far from plain sailing for the Government. The cabled reports which have reached this country and been passed for publication are somewhat conflicting, but the general tenor is not reassuring. It is realised now that a fundamental mistake was made in the early days of the war in paying too little attention to the enlightenment of the French-Canadian habitant as to the real issue at stake and the gravity of the struggle. The fine speeches made by Marshal Joffre and M. Viviani in Canada greatly stirred those who did not need to be convinced, but unfortunately they had little other effect.

Sir Robert Borden and his Government would not have committed the country to conscription were they not entirely convinced of its absolute necessity, and there is good reason to believe that the counsels of patriotic and moderate men, who are in the great majority, will prevail, and patriotism and national duty will prove superior to political opportunism and racial intrigue.

The Canadian Cattle Embargo. In the beginning of the month a resolution was unanimously passed in the Dominion House of Commons urging the removal of the British embargo on the importation of Canadian cattle. The Hon. Martin Burrell's statement that Sir Robert Borden was negotiating with the British Government with this end in view led to a confident anticipation that this unpopular restriction of a quarter of a century's standing would now be removed. This is, however, apparently not to be the case at the present moment. At the same time it is so far satisfactory that at last the British Minister of Agriculture has seen fit to withdraw the stigma which was cast upon Canadian live-stock when the embargo was imposed in October, 1892.

The attitude of the Board of Agriculture was elicited last week by Sir Hamar Greenwood. Mr. Prothero intimated that he was advised by the Chief Veterinary Officer of the Board that the prohibition could not be justified on the ground of health, "and cattle bred and reared in Canada, and leaving that country for the first time by direct shipment to a British port, ought not to be excluded under the Diseases of Animals Act, 1896." He concluded by saying:—

> I cannot say whether, or under what conditions, Canadian cattle as defined above might hereafter be permitted to enter this country except for slaughter at the ports. At present, when farmers at home are being asked to reduce their live-stock, permission is plainly impossible. But the prohibition rests rather on the agricultural policy of the United Kingdom than on the risk of diseases from which, for many years, Canada herself has been most remarkably, if not entirely, free.

Whether it is to Canada's advantage to send her cattle to the Mother Country for fattening purposes rather than in the form of dressed beef is open to question; but, at any rate, when normal conditions return there should be nothing standing in the way of the actual removal of the embargo should the demand be repeated.

The Enemy's Balance. It has, of course, been known since the early days of the war that the Public Trustee was employed by the British Government in collecting full details of enemy property in the United Kingdom and of British interests in enemy countries. Similar information is being collected in Canada by the Department of Finance at Ottawa. Among the large number of Canadians now in England and at the Front there is possibly much information concerning German and Austrian property and interests in Canada which should be communicated to the Minister of Finance at Ottawa.

Wise Expenditure. Money spent in national education is money well spent. Recently some drastic but very much overdue reforms were made in the scale of payment of teachers by the British authorities. Ontario has enjoyed a more enlightened education policy in this respect than the Mother Country. In the course of the ten years preceding 1915 the average salary of teachers in rural and urban schools was increased from $514 for men and $348 for women to $902 and $613 respectively.

We should like to see the judicial salaries in Canada raised to a sum more worthy of the dignity and responsibility of the office. A really well-paid judiciary, with life-tenure, is the cheapest way of insuring the health of the body politic.

Libel Actions and Perverse Juries. In our issue of December 23 last, we commented strongly on the waste of time occupied by the Anzac-on-Sea libel case, brought against the Daily Express, which occupied eleven days. We also commented on the vagaries of juries in libel actions, as in this case they awarded £300 damages against the newspaper, in spite of the strongest summing up by the Lord Chief Justice in favour of the defendants.

The Daily Express appealed from this verdict, and has won its case, the Lords of Appeal describing the verdict of the jury as "perverse." Canada has suffered from perverse verdicts on the part of the jury when the summing-up of the Judge on the evidence submitted was strongly and entirely in favour of ourselves; in the case we refer to, the jury saw fit to disagree. We maintain that the ends of justice and public policy would be far better served if libel cases were taken out of the hands of a jury and tried by a judge.

"CANADA" is now the ONLY newspaper which is giving the full and complete lists up-to-date of the casualties, appointments and other official information concerning the Canadian Overseas Forces. "CANADA" goes to press on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Balfour in Canada.

Mr. Balfour has made a popular and distinguished addition to the small number of British Ministers who have set foot on Canadian soil during their tenure of office. His public appearances in Toronto and Ottawa have, as was to be expected, been something in the nature of a personal triumph, as well as really memorable national gatherings. Coming from "a nation of friends" to "a great and free country, composed, not only of friends, but of countrymen," the Foreign Secretary bore to Canada a message of admiration from the Mother Country. It was delivered with all the eloquence of which Mr. Balfour is a master, and on each occasion a burst of enthusiasm was evoked, by which he was visibly moved.

When Mr. Balfour appeared before the members of the Dominion Parliament on Tuesday—to whom he spoke in both French and English—he was asked by the Speaker of the House of Commons to deliver the message to the Homeland that "we stand firmly with Great Britain and the other Overseas Dominions and the Allies in the fixed determination that the great principles for which we are fighting shall be maintained, and that, to the measure of our ability, we are prepared willingly to bear our full share of the common burden." "I shall bear the message back to Great Britain," Mr. Balfour promised his hearers in response, "that the spirit here is not less ardent and resolute, devoted, and animated by the firm determination to achieve final victory than that which animates themselves."

"Sticking It."

Our remarks on the subject of military distinctions have brought us many letters in strong agreement with the principle we advocated. Some of these correspondents point out that men have gone back to Canada shattered in health from their ordeal in the trenches, with nothing to show for what they have done and suffered. Until someone suggests something better, we maintain that everyone who has "stuck it" for a winter in the front line trenches is entitled to a distinction for his tenacity, and men invalided out after so "sticking it," should be wearing their "T" to-day as a proof that they have shown "tenacity in trench warfare." It would be the easiest distinction to award, and the least open to luck or the idiosyncrasies of the C.O. of any war distinction.

Once the principle was accepted and the qualification fixed, those entitled to the award could make their claim, which would be verified by the battalion records, and a certificate issued. The original members of the 1st Canadian Division have a special shoulder strap, of which they are justly proud; so it is quite within the province of the Canadian military authorities to issue a bronze badge, consisting of, say, a small wreath of oak leaves, enclosing a "T," "T2," or "T3," and leave the British War Office to follow their example.

CANADA AND RUSSIA.

"We Canadians are very happy to show our sympathy and encouragement towards Russia," declared Sir George Perley at Canada's Day at the Russian Exhibition last week. Reference was made by Russian speakers to the contributions made by Canada towards Russian hospitals and to the prosperity which many Russian emigrants had enjoyed in Canada. Mrs. John Hope made a great success of the musical and dramatic part of the entertainment, and the attendance of so many prominent Canadians showed that they were quite alive to the need our good Russian allies have for sympathy in the crisis through which they are passing.

The Maple Leaf Residential Club (I.O.D.E. Annexe) in Connaught Place has been re-opened owing to the increasing number of Canadian soldiers on leave, with whom the Maple Leaf Clubs are so popular.

Mrs. M. Arnold, the wife of Bombdr. Arnold, of the Canadian Field Artillery, now serving in France, a victim of the air-raid on Folkestone last week, was buried with full military honours in the Canadian section of the Garrison Churchyard, at Shorncliffe, on Thursday last.

An indication of the extent of the work carried on at the London head offices of the Canadian Red Cross Society (17-19, Cockspur Street, London) is afforded by the fact that in one day last week 1,070 individual letters were posted to friends or relatives in Canada of soldiers wounded or in hospital, giving various information as to their condition and location.

WITH THE CANADIANS.—IV.

FROM "CANADA'S" SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE.

War Organisation and Personnel Aspects.

VISITING the Front at periodic intervals, one of the most noticeable things is the ever smoother working of the vast machinery of the war from the ports of entry right up to the Front. The war, of course, has now settled down to a great well-run business, able to adapt itself to any sudden call or strain.

The perfection of the organisation is very noticeable in the ease and quickness with which one is able to travel on the great main roads. Now there are so many routes of communication, all perfectly organised for their various purposes, that the main roads are much more free for rapid motor traffic, and from these great highways one sees much less of the movement of troops and stores than in the early days of the war, although the man-power of the great machine is now counted in millions.

With the Canadians at the Front, contrasting the Divisional and Brigade Headquarters with those one visited in 1915, the difference is very marked. To-day it is a war of movement. Since the days of the Somme, Divisional Generals and their staffs live in deep dug-outs, often built by the Boche, and are seldom able to enjoy the comfort of a Nisson hut, owing to the attentions of the long-range guns. Such quarters would have been despised by a Brigadier in the days of stationary trench warfare, and in those days the commanders of divisions enjoyed comfortable chateaux, and made war in comparative luxury.

Veterans in War.

The men one meets out there to-day are veterans in war; they have the philosophical spirit of the regulars; and killing and being killed have now grown to be a matter of every-day business. They do not like the Boche any better on further intimate acquaintance, and apart from his accumulating breaches of all the accepted canons of white man's warfare, there is a very general feeling of disgust and resentment that peace-loving civilians should have been forced, owing to the Huns' attack on national liberty, to go through these weary months of inexpressible hardship and strain while their friends and companions are being killed off before their eyes, and their whole world is being changed out of all recognition.

There is no doubt about the Canadians being efficient as soldiers, although, one and all, they hate war, and long to be back in their civilian employment and in their brighter and more invigorating climate. Except among those who have more recently come out, the general tone is a bit more dour and restrained, as they have been in harness now for a long time. And it is a hard harness, and one that the intelligent and thoughtful cannot wear lightly, but they are distinctly a more formidable foe to-day than the Hun found them even after the first poison clouds at Ypres. They have grown cunning in war, and it may be fairly claimed that the Canadian Corps has shown more initiative and inventiveness in the field than probably any other single corps on the British front. Everything is pretty well standardised now—the best things are proved and tried, and unsuitable contraptions are scrapped, though sometimes it takes longer than it should to convince some wiseacre at the source of supply that what looked very nice on a parade ground in England or Canada is not worth a cuss on the shell-torn battle ground.

Learning by Experience.

We are all learning by experience. Each distinctive unit learns from another, and the keen and well-trained British Staff officer is now appreciated at his proper value. If this beastly war has done nothing else, it has proved to the Overseas Britishers that there are quite a few men in the Old Country still who are as bright and clever as themselves; and though, of course, the older men knew it, many of the younger had to find it out for themselves, as the types they had met with among the immigrants from the Old Country had in some cases given them a prejudiced and incorrect idea of the mental ability of the rest.

The strain on those men who have been out almost from the beginning, and who have been free from illness or wounds, shows less physically than mentally. While, indeed, some of the younger men seem to have aged considerably, many of the older, especially those beyond military age, seem wonderfully rejuvenated. One old acquaintance of mine, who has well passed his half-century, certainly looks, and says he feels, younger than he did fifteen years ago, though he was through all the hard fighting of the Somme and the bad weather of the late autumn, which must have made the front trenches a very severe physical trial to a man of his years. I came across another acquaintance, a man of letters, who before the war ably edited one of the most important Canadian periodicals. He is doing excellent work in the R.A.M.C., and looks years younger for his experiences.

Most of the men have had time to do a lot of thinking while waiting for the war machine to grow up behind them. Their ideas on citizenship and on Dominion and Provincial politics will be found to have undergone a very great change when the time comes for them to translate their ideas into action, and, unless one is entirely mistaken in their attitude of mind, the manipulators of the party machine will be surprised to find a new type of elector, to whom their party catchwords and accustomed trickeries will cease to make appeal. But what mental and moral transmutation has been effected by these long months of the most arduous and trying warfare must be left to other pens to discuss; unquestionably, however, great changes of character and outlook on life have resulted.

There have been months of great monotony, most trying to the men as well as to the officers, though much has been done when battalions have been in rest billets to provide entertainments and encourage games. A word should here be said as to the exceedingly valuable work done in this direction by the Y.M.C.A. organisation.

It was pleasant, during this last visit, when talking with some of the British artillery officers, whose batteries were behind the Canadian trenches, to hear how very warmly they spoke of the friendly relations with the Canadian brigades. The infantry, especially when holding a heavily-shelled position, are very prone to think that the protection of their own guns is not quite as adequate as it should be; therefore, it is safe to assume that when cordially appreciative relations exist both arms must be working with very complete efficiency.

What the Man at the Front Knows.

There is a very popular but erroneous impression about the men right up at the Front, and that is that they know much which they cannot tell. As a matter of fact, battalions know little or nothing except what is actually happening within a mile or so in front of them. Hardly anyone in the battalion has the least idea of what may actually have been planned to take place in the near future. Even at Divisional Headquarters knowledge is strictly limited and gossip frequently inaccurate. Everyone is concentrated on his own work, and the Staff deals with the affairs of their brigade or their division. Except for the few at General Headquarters, there is little to be heard at the Front as to the general situation or the progress as a whole, and there is a great deal more to be picked up at important centres in the rear or at main bases, through which news from all parts of the Front percolates.

In going about just behind the Front, which is crowded with various units of all kinds, it was quite amazing to find how nobody, except at Staff Headquarters, had the slightest knowledge of the units in his vicinity. This was accounted for by the fact that our line was then advancing. For instance, motoring from one Divisional Headquarters to another, I knew that I was within a few hundred yards of my destination, but several of the men of a British battalion who were occupying dug-outs actually within sight of the flag I was looking for, expressed their complete ignorance of any Canadian troops being in the vicinity. Units may live and move on parallel lines of extreme proximity, but the rank and file may be entirely ignorant of each other's identity. Of course, as one moves back from the Front, the more settled camps are better acquainted with their neighbours.

On these visits one passes over large tracts of country, and one cannot help being struck by the almost complete absence of men of military age in civil employ, and also by the wonderful state of tillage. I cannot remember having seen any neglected and weed-grown fields, although I traversed some hundreds of miles of country, and yet one saw very little labour in the fields. A little rolling and harrowing was going on; apart from that all is done, and the women and the old men now patiently await the reward which they have done so much to deserve. The industry of the French peasantry is an inspiration and also an amazement. Our Canadian boys will carry back with them some very useful knowledge which they have gained of French methods of agriculture.

The colossal expenditure of British money in Northern France has undoubtedly brought financial prosperity to thousands of French farmers and small shopkeepers, which has done a little to ameliorate the cruel and wanton destruction caused by the sale Boche. Of course, one hears everywhere of enormously advanced prices, but this is almost as much due to the careless lavishness of our soldiers as to the eagerness of the inhabitants. Considering the wide difference in temperament, character, and commercial methods and ideas of the two races, the very general good feeling and harmony are much to be wondered at.

[In the second article of this series a description was given of a visit to a main dressing station, which by a slip was referred to as a "casualty clearing station."]

A Dominion Officer's Experiences of German Prison Life.

DISAPPOINTMENT was in store for all of us, for after four days right on the frontier some 25 officers and 400 men were put on board a train and sent off to Heidelberg and Mannheim.

Though rejected, the return to Germany was not a cheerless journey. It is impossible to be anything but impressed by the beautiful country through which one passed. The Lake of Constance, the baby beginnings of the Danube and the Rhine, the Black Forest with its countless legends, the thousand-and-one beauties of Baden—would make an impression on the most preoccupied mind. It was only when we were once again behind barbed wire that we had time to feel dispirited at things.

Having given away our food, believing that we were going to Switzerland, we arrived at a strange camp for an indefinite time with the prospect of having to live on the rations supplied by the German Government, and borrowing from the scanty reserve stock of the few English officers in the camp. These officers were more than generous in helping us out, but in spite of it all one lived in a semi-starved state for some eight weeks before one's parcels started to arrive again with any regularity. A small tin of sardines between three of us as our supper was a luxury; more often it was bread and jam, or just bread.

At Heidelberg.

Heidelberg, though much over-crowded, was in many respects a very good camp. The commandant, a man of some sixty years of age, was unique as a German prison commandant in two ways. He was a gentleman in every sense of the word, and he had a sense of humour. Of all the German officers I have met he is one of a very few who merit the first description, and the only one who possessed the latter quality. Having been nearly captured on the Russian front in the early days of the war, at roll call he would delight in telling the Russian officers of his hair-breadth escape, ending by saying with a shudder: "And to think, gentlemen, that I might have been a prisoner in a Russian camp." A Canadian, arriving at the camp on two sticks, recovering slowly from bad wounds in both legs, was solemnly greeted by the remark: "I shall treat you well, but remember, if you try climbing over the fence—if you try to escape—I shall be compelled to punish you." At the time the poor fellow could not hobble fifty yards.

Adjoining the camp was a large parade ground on which boys of fifteen years of age and upwards, members of a Baden Jäger Regiment, were daily instructed in the art of war. The stupidity of the recruits often exasperated their instructors to such an extent that the N.C.O.'s would beat them with their drawn bayonets. Tears were very frequent from these budding soldiers. Our interpreter, whose knowledge of English was not his strong point, put up a notice to the effect that "It is FORBIDDEN to laugh at the Hunters."

This parade ground was also used as a landing-place for aeroplanes, but owing to various reasons was very deceptive. In the five months we were at Heidelberg five machines attempted to land, and no fewer than four were smashed in doing so, two with fatal results to the occupants. The excitement in the camp when an aeroplane looked like landing was intense, and there was generally spirited betting as to there being an accident, and as to the chances of it being fatal. One young pilot, having landed his machine the night before, brought out a number of friends from the town one morning to see him off. He ascended successfully, circled round once or twice, waved a fond adieu to his admiring lady friends, and crashed to the ground within a few feet of where he had ascended not five minutes before.

Heidelberg was always full of wounded, there being on an average 5,000 in the town, and often double that amount. With the exception of the wounded and the few soldiers in training, the town is inhabited solely by women and children; many of the houses were shut up, the streets practically deserted, and the shops bare of goods. On clear days one could hear the sound of the guns distinctly, bringing back old memories to many a disappointed man, and reminding the Germans that the war would yet be carried into their own country.

The Monotony of a Prison Camp.

Thus we spent our days, with little to break the monotony, seldom seeing a fresh face or hearing anything new. The damnable monotony of a prison camp must be experienced to be understood.

A few days before Christmas some of us were again told to pack our boxes, as we were to be exchanged. Thoroughly sceptical now from repeated failures, most of us took food for a month with us, and hardly one had any real confidence in getting out of the country.

Arriving at Constance, we were again greeted civilly by the officials, the German guards removed, and, wonder of wonders, in a few hours we were put on a train, and the cheering of the crowds, the smiles of the women, the hand-shakes of the men, told us that we were over the border—once again free men, free to get well, free to forget the nightmare of nearly two years' imprisonment, but never to forget those unfortunate ones that we had left behind us in Germany.

THE CANADIAN.

The look with which you sped him, standing there
Amidst the golden fields,
Sustained him, builded round his soul, when sorely tried,
An armour of protecting memories and pride.
No craven thought he yields
When death screams doomful through the air.

If he should fall, remember always this, he gives.
With loyal zeal and steadfast faith,
The ardent blood of youth, clear-eyed, undismayed, the best
That's born of England, by England given the yearning West—
Know, too, the radiance of his gift
Brave thoughts, dear dreams of love that bridge the rift of immortality.
He lives. Think this—he lives while all he died for lives.
In the passionless peace of the prairie and fields of flowering grain,
When the meadow-lark sings his requiem.
Your soldier breathes again.

MILITARY SPORTS MEETINGS.

Believing in the old saw that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," the brigade commanders in the Shorncliffe and Hastings Commands gave their warm support to sports meetings held in their areas on Empire Day and Whit-Monday respectively. The prizes at the Canadian Reserve Cavalry Regiment meet (which was attended by Major-General Steele) were distributed by Mrs. C. M. Nelles, wife of Col. Nelles, C.M.G. The Reserve Artillery and the Central Ontario Res. Infy. Brigade also chose Empire Day for their meets. Mrs. Mills presented the prizes at the former gathering.

The feature of the Whit Monday sports of the Hastings Command was the keen friendly rivalry shown between the athletes representing the Command Depôts and the Canadian Training School. Lieut. Davidson had a "double," winning the 220 yards race and the 120 yards hurdles. In the former event he beat Lieut. Geo. Warde (Manitoba champion) and Capt. Bobby Kerr (the famous Canadian and Olympic champion). Pte. Eddie Lawrence, the Montreal distance runner, won the mile. A baseball game between the C.C.D. and the C.T.S. was won by the latter by 7 runs to 3.

A fine performance was accomplished by Sergt. C. A. Thorpe, of the C.F.A., at Stamford Bridge on Monday, when, with 108 yards start, he won the one mile open handicap by 16 yards in 4 min. 18 4-5 secs. A Canadian headquarters team (Capt. Mel. Brock, Pte. J. Tresidder, Gnr. Hector Phillips, and Pte. C. Kelly) won the mile relay race in 3 min. 2-5 secs.

THE ROYAL MILITARY COLLEGE OF CANADA

THERE are few national institutions of more value and interest to the country than the Royal Military College of Canada. Notwithstanding this, its object and the work it is accomplishing are not sufficiently understood by the general public.

The College is

designed primarily for the purpose of giving instruction in all branches of military science to cadets and officers of the Canadian Militia; in fact, it corresponds to Woolwich and Sandhurst.

The Commandant and military instructors are all officers on lent for the purpose, and there is, in addition, a complete staff of professors for the civil subjects, which form such an important part of the College course. Medical attendance is also provided.

THE ACTIVE LIST OF THE IMPERIAL ARMY,

Whilst the College is organised on a strictly military basis, the cadets receive a practical and scientific training in subjects essential to a sound modern education.

The course includes a thorough grounding in Mathematics, Civil Engineering, Surveying, Physics, Chemistry, French and English.

The strict discipline maintained at the College is one of the most valuable features of the course, and, in addition, the constant and outdoor exercises of all kinds, ensures health and excellent physical condition.

Commissions in all branches of the Imperial service and Canadian Permanent Force are offered annually.

The diploma of graduation is considered by the authorities conducting the examination for Dominion Land Surveyor to be equivalent to a university degree, and by the Regulations of the Law Society of Ontario, it obtains the same exemptions as a B.A. degree.

The length of the course is three years, in three terms of 9½ months each.

The total cost of the course, including board, uniform, instructional material, and all extras is about $800.

The annual competitive examination for admission to the College takes place in May of each year at the headquarters of the several military districts.

For full particulars regarding this examination, and for any other information, application should be made to

The Secretary of the Militia Council, Ottawa, Ont.;

OR TO THE

Commandant, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.

THE AGONY OF ARMENIA.

Elsewhere in this issue of Canada the Armenian Refugees (Lord Mayor's) Fund appeals for the subscription of funds urgently needed to ransom 10,000 captive women and children from the Kurds; to establish industries for the refugees, and for clothing, housing, orphanages, and repatriation. The horrible atrocities which have been perpetrated upon this unfortunate people by their oppressors form one of the most heartrending stories of the last few terrible years. The official Blue Book shows that during the past two years some 1,200,000 persons were deported, of whom half died or were massacred on their journey, and the other half are dying of exposure and hunger in their places of exile. Their report published last year and in a further statement issued last March the members of the Caucasus unit of the fund point out that while, through massacre and deportation, many of the Armenians are beyond the reach of relief, there is a pressing need of help in assisting those who, though left in existence, have been rendered homeless and helpless during the war. The report indicates the manner in which relief work is being carried out by various societies among which is the Lord Mayor's Fund, which now earnestly appeals for assistance.

CANADIANS IN IMPERIAL FORCES

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER

Flt. Sub-Lt. John Joseph Malone, R.N.A.S. (Regina) since Reported Killed.

For successfully attacking and bringing down hostile aircraft on numerous occasions. At about 6.30 a.m. on April 23, 1917, while on patrol, he attacked a hostile scout and drove it down under control. He then attacked a second scout, which, after the pilot had been hit, turned over on its back and went down through the clouds. A third scout, attacked by him from a distance of about twenty yards, descended completely out of control. While engaging a fourth machine he ran out of ammunition, so returned to the advanced landing ground, replenished his supply, and at once returned and attacked another hostile formation, one of which he forced down out of control. On the afternoon of April 24, 1917, he engaged a hostile two-seater machine and, after badly wounding the observer, forced it to land on our side of the lines.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS

Flt. Lt. Lloyd Samuel Breadner, R.N.A.S. (Ottawa).

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in leading his patrol against hostile formations. He has himself brought down three hostile machines and forced several others to land. On April 6, 1917, he drove down a hostile machine which was wrecked while attempting to land in a ploughed field. On the morning of April 11, 1917, he destroyed a hostile machine, which fell in flames, brought down another in a spinning nose dive with one wing folded up, and forced a third to land.

CAPTAIN G. A. GOOD, R.F.C.

Formerly of the 71st York Regt., Fredericton, N.B., Montreal Res. Batt. and North-West Batt. (with which he saw active service for ten months). He is now a Flying Officer Observer in France.

CANADA'S GIFT TO SEAMEN.

The British Sailors' Relief Fund.

The efforts of the Canadian Committee formed to raise and allocate the British Sailors' Relief Fund (Canada), to which reference has been made in previous issues of Canada, have met with gratifying success. Recent figures showed that the fund had reached the sum of $638,000, the greater proportion of which was collected in Ontario. Mr. Wm. G. Ross, of Montreal (president of the Montreal Harbour Commission and Director of Naval Recruiting in the Dominion), is the president of the fund, and Sir George Perley chairman in London. Much of the success of this appeal for the "men who go down to the sea in ships" is due to Mr. Ross's vigorous propaganda in the Dominion, and he himself is a large contributor.

An initial instalment of £50,000 has already been allocated to the various charitable institutions dealing with British seamen and their dependents in the Mother Country. Mr. W. L. Griffith, Secretary to the London Committee, has received a budget of interesting letters of acknowledgment and thanks. All the writers emphasise the fact that the gifts are most opportune, coming as they do at a time when the customary channels of support have been seriously affected by the war. The Secretary of the Seamen's Hospital Society says:—"It is most gratifying to find that Canada has shown this further evidence of interest and sympathy with the men of the sea"; the Missions to Seamen:—"This most generous contribution from the people of Canada will be an immense encouragement to all our sailors"; the Royal Alfred Institution:—"Your gift adds another strand to the bond which binds us to our brethren in Canada"; the Sailors' Orphan Homes, Hull:—"Your exceedingly kind letter will be framed and hung in our school-room that not only this, but future generations of sailors' orphans will know how great is the love of the Canadian people."

Among the institutions to benefit by the fund is the Royal National Mission to Deep Sea Fishermen, which deals with the moral and physical well-being of the brave men who man the minesweepers and patrol boats round the British coast.

NEW BISHOP OF ONTARIO.

The Rev. Dr. Edward John Bidwell, hitherto coadjutor bishop, has been enthroned at Kingston as Anglican Bishop of Ontario, in place of the late Bishop Lennox Mills. The new Bishop is now in his 51st year, and was educated at Bradfield and Wadham College, Oxford. He was headmaster of the Cathedral Grammar School, Peterborough, when he accepted the mastership of Lennoxville College, Quebec, in 1903. In 1909 he was appointed Dean of Ontario and rector of St. George's Cathedral, Kingston, and was appointed Bishop of Kingston and coadjutor to the Bishop of Ontario on June 24, 1913. His wife is a daughter of Mr. Joseph Morris, of Leamington, Warwickshire.

At the request of the military authorities, General Booth has established in the metropolis, in close proximity to the important railway stations, several hostels worked by Salvation Army officers. There is one at Sheridan House, Strand; another in Southampton Row, with 350 beds; and a third in Stamford Street, opposite Waterloo Station. The Salvation Army officers visit the railway stations and invite the men to their hostels, and generally act the part of friend to them. For the purpose of extending the Army's war work, and also in order to provide the money for the coming year, General Booth is appealing on June 9 for at least £25,000.

FIELD GLASSES FOR THE FRONT.

To the Editor of "Canada."

SIR,—May I beg for a small space in which to point out the urgent need of field glasses for the use of officers and men on active service?

The response to the appeal made by the manager of Lady Roberts' Field Glass Fund, National Service League, 64, Victoria Street, Westminster, has been most generous, enabling over 27,000 pairs of glasses to be issued, but the need is as urgent as ever.

May I suggest that as we are at a crucial stage of the war, and that as every glass lent may be the saving of many lives, all who have field glasses, telescopes, or even powerful opera glasses, which they are willing to lend, should communicate with the Manager, Lady Roberts' Field Glass Fund, 64, Victoria Street, Westminster, S.W.1.

I would suggest, too, that the appeal should be extended to America, whence, no doubt, a generous response would be received.—I am, Sir,—

A VETERAN MEMBER OF THE H.A.C.

Sir Walter Davidson in his cablegram states that there are further donations to follow.

CANADA IN AUSTRALIA.

One of the most elaborate and attractive features of a Win-the-War Pageant in Melbourne was a tableau arranged by Mr. D. H. Ross, Canadian Trade Commissioner in Australia, on behalf of the Dominion Government. The marshal was in the uniform of the Royal North-West Mounted Police, and on each of a team of six grey horses was an Indian in full warpaint. On a platform sat Britannia, with on her right Justice, and on her left Canada, a young lady in white and gold, with a crown of maple leaves, proffering a basket filled with the fruits of the land. John Bull was represented as a recruiting sergeant, and coming towards him were typical Canadian recruits, a farmer, fisherman, trapper, hunter, lumberman, sportsman, etc. Slung at the sides of the float were two Canadian canoes, in each of which were two Indian maidens.

President Wilson's historic speech to Congress, declaring war on Germany, has been reprinted in artistic form, and is being sold on behalf of the British Committee for the Celebration of the Centenary of Peace between Great Britain and the United States of America (1, Central Buildings, Tothill Street, Westminster, S.W.). The organisation is allied with several committees in the United States and Canada, and the inauguration of memorials under its auspices will be carried out after the war.

THE AGONY OF ARMENIA.

WILL CANADA HELP?

Weekly Reports from Our Own Correspondents.

THE LONDON MARKET.

London, Tuesday.

Stock Exchange business during the week has been interrupted by the Whitsun recess, and the volume of dealings has consequently been attenuated.

Among Canadian securities business has been light, as elsewhere. Dominion gilt-edged issues have been quiet and spotty, and mark little net change. The old Fours hold at 80 and the 1½ per Cents at 93.

In the Railroad group Grand Trunk issues have remained in a state of unsettlement, bred of the nationalisation proposals, and prices are often ½ to 1 down. The 1st Pref., at 65, has lost 2. The Company's gross earnings keep good, and the traffic for the third week of the month was £69,221 heavier, but the revenue statement for April shows a sharp shrinkage of £136,500 in net earnings. Canadian Pacifics have ruled firm in sympathy with New York and, at around 175¼, are a fraction better. Canadian Northern issues have not varied.

As regards Land shares, Hudson's Bays, at 6 11-16, are 1-16 down. There has been no movement in the lower-priced shares.

The principal industrial securities have done little more than mark time. Dominion Steels and Steel of Canada are both unchanged, and Canadian Car issues have not moved; but Cockshutt Plow Pref. marked at 68. Brazilian Tractions have fallen back a point to 17. There has been an improvement of 10 to 300 in Cities Services.

OUR TORONTO LETTER.

Toronto, May 15.

Business on the Stock Exchange has continued very light in volume and of no special interest. It is a sign of the times that very little interest was aroused by the increase in the Dominion Textile dividend to 7 per cent. It is rather difficult to assign any adequate reason for the striking dullness of the markets as compared with last year, but probably the new excess profits taxation is responsible for a good deal of the lack of interest in industrials. Still, despite the slackness of business, it is stated that an option has recently been given on a seat in the Montreal Stock Exchange at a price of $27,000. The same seat was sold early in 1915 at $13,000. Another seat was sold several weeks ago at $26,000.

The Steel stocks have been inclined to heaviness. Cement, however, has been more active, and there has been a fair demand for Steamships. In regard to the Cement Co., Mr. F. P. Jones is quoted as stating that the sales of cement are running about 16 per cent. better than last year, this being due to the steadily increasing demand for cement in rural districts. The paper stocks have been uneven. Riordon holding strong, while other stocks, like Wayagamack and Spanish River have shown a downward tendency. Civic Power, under the influence of some selling, has dropped back a few points. This movement has given rise to some little conjecture. It seems to be generally believed that the selling in this case was for the purpose of protecting other commitments. It is taken for granted that the dividend is secure, as although the company may be feeling the increased cost of making gas, its electric business is so much more important that it gives stability to the company's annual ...

Among current quotations are Scotia 90, Dominion Steel Corporation 50½, Steel of Canada 57, Cement 58½, Pref. 92½, Canadian Car 29, Pref. 68, Canadian General Electric 106½, Dominion Textile 85, Riordon 148, Wayagamack 70, ... River Pref. 49½, Civic Power 77½, Steamships Pref. 87, Common 38½, Toronto Railway 79, Winnipeg Railway, under the influence of the discouraging annual statement for 1916, sold the other day as low as 48⅝ in Toronto, Ames-Holden Pref. 50. A transaction in Hillcrest Collieries' shares which occurred in Montreal recently at 14½ is noteworthy as being the first transaction in these shares since 1915.

In the mining markets the principal feature has been the decline in Dome Mines, due to the cut in the dividend rate from 20 per cent. to 10 per cent. per annum. This action is stated to be precautionary in view of the difficult and threatening labour conditions. It is stated that the forthcoming annual report will show the company to be in a sound financial condition, and will confirm the discovery of very rich ore bodies in various parts of the mine. Meanwhile the Government is being asked to supply the company with labourers from among the interned aliens. Dome shares sold at $11.90 on Monday, but have improved to $12.75, which represents a decline of $2.75 since May 3. Hollinger Cons. is also lower at $4.85 and McIntyre at $1.51, while Newray is .74, Boston Creek .75, and Dome Extension 14½. On Friday there was heavy dealing in Apex, the price closing at .6. The Silver shares are similarly weaker than before, Coniagas being down to $3.60, Temiskaming 40½, Hargraves .11½, Kennabeek .27, Peterson Lake .9¼.

CANADA'S WEST INDIES TRADE.

Effect of the Preferential Experiment.

A report of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, just issued, shows that the trade agreement entered into between Canada and the West Indies as the result of negotiations carried on by Sir George Foster, has been effective in increasing the trade between the two countries to a considerable degree.

The preference has greatly benefited the trade with Canada in articles such as boots and shoes, butter, cheese, condensed milk, cordage, fish, flour, lumber, oats, paints and colours, paper, potatoes and soap.

The four products which have been particularly affected by the treaty have been fish, flour, oats and lumber. In these products there has been a remarkable transference of trade from the United States to Canada. From 1912 to 1915 the exports of fish from Canada to the West Indies have increased 52 per cent., while the American export of the same articles has decreased 36 per cent. The increase in Canadian flour exports has been no less than 195 per cent., while the American exports decreased 64 per cent. The Canadian export of oats increased 52 per cent.; the American decreased 73 per cent. In lumber there was an increase in Canadian exports of 26 per cent., against a decrease in American exports of 62 per cent.

A C.P.R. MAN'S VIEWS OF THE WEST.

On his return to Winnipeg last month from a tour of inspection over the Western lines of the C.P.R., Mr. Grant Hall, Vice-President and General Manager of the company, Western system, spoke very reassuringly in regard to the general situation in the Western Provinces. Mr. Hall stated that a great revival of general business had taken place at the Pacific coast where the depression has now passed away. In this regard, he referred not only to Vancouver, but to the whole of British Columbia, while in the Boundary mining districts he found conditions much like those of the boom times of 1896, except that the country was now in a state of economy as well as prosperity. On the prairies also he found retail trade generally in much the same prosperous condition as existed a few years ago. As the cause of all this, he mentioned the fact that people are down to a bedrock basis, and dollars are being spent where they do most good. "I can see no reason for pessimism so far as the West is concerned, either in growth or production," said Mr. Hall.

Trust and Loan of Canada.—For the year ended March 31 last the accounts show a net profit of £124,294, and after carrying £44,147 to the statutory reserve fund there is an available balance of £84,195, including £4,048 brought in. The directors have placed £725 to special reserve, making that fund £140,000, and have applied £17,138 to income-tax fund. Balance dividend making 10 per cent. for year (against same), £6,032 forward. The statutory reserve fund now amounts to £132,054, compared with £153,532 on March 31, 1916, a decrease of £21,478. The total depreciation of the securities held in this fund for the year amounts to £53,976, which has been written off (of this £45,328 was shown in the semi-annual report issued as at September 30, 1916).

Vancouver Light and Power. — The British Columbia Electric Railway Company announce that the British Columbia Legislature has amended clauses of the Vancouver City Incorporation Act, which protected the company against municipal competition with respect to light and power. The amendments seem to provide that, after June 1, 1919, the city will have the right to compete with the company. The directors are unable to make any further statement until after full mail advices are received.

At the Royal Geographical Society last week Dr. J. F. Unstead read a Paper on "The Economic Resources of British Columbia." This Province of nearly 400,000 square miles was capable, he said, of supporting a population of nearly 12,000,000, whereas the 1911 census showed 393,000 in occupations, and 173,000 who did not work for a wage.

INVESTMENT NOTES.

The directors of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co. announce that the Provincial Legislature has amended the Vancouver City Incorporation Act in a manner which seems to permit the city, after June 1, 1919, to compete with the company in the matter of providing light and power. Besides its significance to holders of the company's securities, the announcement suggests consideration of some of the drawbacks inherent in monopoly franchises. Such franchises have usually been granted by communities which so urgently feel the need of facilities which they cannot themselves finance that they have been willing to offer great future privileges to secure the investment of capital in what may not immediately be a remunerative enterprise. Under such circumstances the pressing need of the facilities to be secured is apt to obscure the undesirability of preventing competition in the future. In course of time the situation changes; population increases; the company holding the franchise grows prosperous, and its interests in some directions, perhaps, do not coincide with public desires; a large proportion of the increased population have no personal recollection of the original situation which rendered expedient the granting of the franchise, and appreciation of the facilities which have been created is overgrown by public clamour against the restraint of competition. Under such circumstances, it is almost inevitable that while the franchise holders naturally seek to preserve their real or imaginary monopoly rights intact, the public favour a limitation of the privileges, and, even if an alteration of conditions is found legally impossible, there is often friction between the corporate interest and public sentiment, which impedes progress both of the company and of general development, especially as one unfortunate result of such friction is that it tends strongly to discourage the investment of capital. In this case, it appears that while the company believed itself in this particular matter to be possessed of certain vested rights, the city took the ground that the company was "on the same basis as an industrial flotation under a protective tariff subject to legislative change," and, from the directors' present announcement, it appears that the Provincial Legislature must have taken the latter view of the legal position.

A report from Montreal suggests that, as the Russian contracts of the Canadian Car and Foundry Co. were not completed when the company's fiscal year ended on Sept. 30, 1916, the results of those contracts may not be included in the forthcoming report of the company for that year. Apparently, however, it is still believed that very large profits accrued to the company from its Russian business, and that some action in regard to the preferred dividend may be expected within the next few months.

After paying dividends regularly at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum from 1907 to 1912, and at the rate of 6 per cent. from then onwards, the Dominion Textile Co. has now placed its Common stock on a 7 per cent. per annum dividend basis. It is believed that this increase not only reflects the prosperity which the company has enjoyed during the year which closed on March 31, but also, in view of the Board's well-known conservatism in the matter of its dividend policy, may be taken as a sound indication of excellent business prospects for the current year at least. It will be remembered that this company was able to continue its dividend payments without interruption or change during the very difficult times of 1914 and 1915, and did so, moreover, without having to draw upon its surplus account for the purpose.

Meanwhile, Canadian Cottons, Ltd., whose year also ends on March 31, is able to report in regard to last year the largest volume of business and the largest manufacturing profits in its history. Total profits for the year were $792,832; bond interest took $209,700, leaving $583,132, and of this preferred dividends took $219,690. The balance, $363,442, less the amount of the war tax, $26,574, represented nearly 12½ per cent. on the company's Common stock. The company carries forward into the current year a total profit and loss surplus of $1,598,571, which amount, by the way, equals over 58 per cent. of its Common stock. This makes the 6 per cent. Preferred stock, which at its current market value of about 79 yields over 7½ per cent. per annum, look like an attractive investment.

Arrangements for the service to be held at Westminster Abbey on Monday, July 2, in connection with the 50th anniversary of Confederation and in memory of Canadians who have fallen in the war, are being completed by Mr. W. L. Griffith, Secretary to the High Commissioner's office, 19, Victoria Street, S.W. On the same day in Paris a similar service will be held in the Cathedral of Notre Dame.

Ontario after the War—AGRICULTURE

The Province of Ontario is eight times the size of England and twice the size of Germany. With a land surface of 230,000,000 acres in extent, there has so far been brought under cultivation only 13,500,000 acres. On this area are produced crops and stock yielding $750,000,000 per annum.

Everything will be done to encourage settlers after the war. Free gifts of 100 or 200 acres of land; cash advances by Government; Government building of highways; liberal aid for the erection and maintenance of schools; Government experimental farms and agricultural colleges, etc.

Millions of acres of the most perfect soil are simply waiting for the plough. Ontario's enormous harvests could easily be trebled.

No country in the world offers such wonderful agricultural opportunities as the Province of

ONTARIO

Ontario is the MOST BRITISH Province in Canada, and the newcomer enjoys all the advantages of social life. Electric light is in general use in most private houses and on many of the farms.

NOTES ON INVESTMENTS.

Bank of Montreal's Exceptional Strength.

How well the Dominion is coming through the abnormal conditions created by the War is amply demonstrated by the half yearly report of the Bank of Montreal to April 30 last. It is evident that the Canadian people have taken to heart the earnest counsels of economy and thrift advocated by leading publicists, for the Bank's interest-bearing deposits are up over $22,000,000, an average increase of more than $3,500,000 a month. Following its usual policy the Bank has maintained a position of exceptional strength in the all-important matter of liquid assets and cash in hand. Gold has been added steadily to the bank's holding of the yellow metal, the amount now in hand standing at the record level of $21,556,501, as compared with $18,132,736 a year ago. The total assets increased over $21,000,000 in the half-year to $386,806,887. Of this total no less than $270,001,422, a high record, represented liquid assets, equal to the fine ratio of 77.16 per cent. of the liabilities to the public. Various important changes in the different accounts indicate clearly the large business that is being handled for the Canadian and British Governments. The bank's holdings of these securities have increased from only $119,736 at the end of the fiscal year, to the imposing total of $16,273,465, while the total of Canadian Municipal and British public securities is now $28,090,026, against $21,796,159. Combined, these two aggregates now exceed $44,000,000, as compared with under $1,000,000 two years ago.

Safeguarding the Financial Position of the Dominion.

Interest-bearing deposits at $232,731,991 compare with $210,439,031, and non-interest-bearing deposits have risen from $88,767,018 to $91,412,284. Notes in circulation, which stand at $21,891,437, indicate that general commercial business has been well maintained. The total current loans in Canada and elsewhere and loans to cities and towns, amount to $109,717,219. The profits earned in the half-year show the usual safe margin over dividend and bonus requirements, being $1,182,016, as compared with $1,067,240 for the corresponding period of 1916. Deducting dividend and bonus and war tax appropriations, the surplus carried forward to the next half-year is $1,557,034, as against $1,414,423 at the end of the fiscal year. This statement will create general satisfaction in the Mother Country, where the Bank of Montreal is held in high esteem, and shows how successful has been its policy of building up an edifice of exceptional strength and with the laudable object of safeguarding the financial position of the Dominion during the abnormal times through which the world is now passing.

Excess Profits Tax and Dividend Arrears.

Those holders of Canadian Industrial Preference issues—whose interest is in arrear—who have been building castles in the air as to the prospective benefits likely to accrue from war profits, will not be pleased to learn, on the authority of a prominent financial writer, that all profits within the taxable period in excess of 7 per cent. are liable to the excess profits tax. It is pointed out that the fact that a portion of them may be earmarked for the payment of overdue dividends on the Preferred stock "makes no difference," and it is added "the tax is upon the profits of the company, not on those of the Common stockholders, and the Treasury does not care how the profits are divided among the different classes of shareholders." And although this is poor comfort to those Preferred stockholders—as in the case of the Canadian Car and Foundry Co., amongst others, whose cumulative interest is in arrear—who have been looking to the large prospective profits arising from war contracts to pay off the arrears of dividends, it is, after all, the only business-like interpretation of the war legislation dealing with profits directly arising from the war. It is, no doubt, recognition of this fact which has put such a damper on the high hopes cherished in the early days of the war as to the prospective benefits likely to accrue to stockholders in companies able to manufacture munitions or provide other necessities or services in connection with the war.

Canadian Railways' Prospective Coal Bill.

Evidence has been recently furnished as to the enormous rise in the cost of all materials used in connection with the maintenance and operation of Canadian railways. One of the most important of these, of course, is coal, and the Montreal Financial Times, in an interesting note on this subject in its relation to the demand for an increase in general freight rates in Canada, points out that it is "the price of coal which is likely to affect operating costs of Canadian railways to a great extent this year. Only those people who delve deeply into the accounts of railway companies discover the high percentage that coal forms of operating expenses. Our contemporary furnishes interesting data on this point in its relation to the three principal railway companies in the Dominion, pointing out that it is estimated that, on the basis of the quotations made by the coal producing concerns, the increase in the aggregate coal bill of the companies in question will be at least $15,000,000 in the current twelve months. It is added that it is estimated that this huge increase will be distributed as follows: Canadian Pacific Railway in the vicinity of $8,000,000, Grand Trunk Railway and its Pacific subsidiary $4,000,000, and the Canadian Northern Railway approximately $3,000,000. Since this note was penned the report of the Railway Commission has been issued, and an entirely new situation created. Pending, however, the consideration of the whole subject by the Canadian Parliament, it is reasonable to anticipate that an increase in freight rates will be sanctioned, and the Financial Times claims that such increase is so urgent "that it will be absolutely necessary to make some temporary arrangement" in order to provide for the interminable delay which will inevitably result from counter proposals by the opponents of such a concession.

Under the new pension scheme arranged by the National Advertising Benevolent Society, of which Sir George Riddell is president for the current year, the first Election of Pensioners will take place on July 11. Men and women engaged in the advertising profession throughout the Kingdom are invited to communicate with the Secretary of the Society, 61, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

A Barnardo boy was sent out to Canada in 1909. Having learned shorthand in the evening classes at Stepney Causeway he soon turned it to good account, obtaining a post as reporter on a Montreal paper. He enlisted in the Canadian Forces, and was wounded in the Somme fighting. "Buried by a crump and shrapnelled in the back," is his own description. He is one of 9,352 old boys from Dr. Barnardo's Homes who are now serving in the Forces 5,317 being in the Overseas Contingents.

The Technical School at 164, Shaftesbury Avenue, London, W.C., of that old-established and vigorous society, the National Refuges for Homeless and Destitute Children, continues its excellent course of instruction. The tailoring section is doing well. It was in danger of suffering hurt because of the sweeping denunciation made concerning the methods employed in certain Government schools which appeared in one of the daily papers in December. The editor of The Tailor and Cutter immediately took the matter up and demonstrated that boys could be, and were, properly trained in this institution. Work defended in this generous way is a proof of its soundness, and should receive the support which it seeks and merits.

The fullest particulars of special investment opportunities in Canada mentioned from time to time in the column headed "Investment Notes and Opportunities" are supplied on request to readers who are annual subscribers.

Enquiries by telegram in regard to new issues can be made if a reply is prepaid, but this privilege is extended only to annual subscribers.

FINANCIAL AND REAL ESTATE.

C. W. (Hastings).—We can at present add nothing further to the remarks published in a recent issue. As then mentioned, the annual report is now due, and will, doubtless, include some indication of the directors' policy in regard to the preferred dividends.

Excess Profits.—The tax was formerly at the rate of 25 per cent. on all profits over 7½ per cent. Under the Budget for this year the taxation is graduated so that on all profits over 15 per cent. but not exceeding 20 per cent. a tax of 50 per cent. is imposed, and on profits over 20 per cent. the tax is 75 per cent. The increases came into force as from January 1, 1917.

Land Tax.—The rate of taxation upon land in any organised area in Alberta is fixed by the councils or boards elected by the ratepayers. No tax is payable to the Dominion or Provincial Governments in respect of any land situated in any organised local improvement district or rural municipality, and a school district, if such land is being used. In rural municipalities land is assessed at its value as wild land without taking into consideration improvements due to labour or the investment of capital. The only taxes payable in respect of such land are the municipal or local improvement tax, and the school tax for the school district in which it is situated, except in the case of a farm in a hail insurance district, which would be subject to the hail tax. Unused land upon which the owner does not reside is subject to the Provincial "wild land" tax. Both local improvement and school taxes naturally vary in the various districts. According to a statement recently issued by the Provincial Department of Municipal Affairs the range in each case is from $2 to $16 per quarter section (160 acres). Upon a quarter section in a rural municipality the average annual tax for municipal purposes is stated as $8.06 and for school purposes $10.75, making the total taxation per quarter section $18.81 (about £3 17s.), which, as the average value of such a quarter section is stated as being $2.328, represents an annual tax of about 13/16 of 1 per cent. of the capital value.

GENERAL.

W. S. S. (St. Leonard's).—Consult your medical officer and chaplain.

F. P. (Harrogate).—There is no motto attached to the "Canadian Contingent," nor to the battalion you mention.

S. J. U. (Leeds).—It was by a printers' error that Banff was included under the heading British Columbia instead of Alberta in our issue on May 26. We agree with you as to the beauty of this C.P.R. mountain resort, at which so many transcontinental travellers break their journey.

7th Battalion.—It is obviously impossible to print such letters as this. It is universally recognised that, for one man who receives a distinction for gallantry in the field, twenty others equally deserve it. In the case you mention he was very tenacious in his gallantry, and it is pleasing to know that he is a citizen of the great Republic which has now joined up on the right side, but we have heard of many other cases of equally consistent and meritorious gallantry which have hitherto not received recognition. It is the fortune of war, and the best to be hoped for is that, although many must be overlooked, none shall receive distinctions which are not most fully earned, and purely combatant rewards should be exclusively reserved for the fighting men.

R. B. T.—It was very far from our desire to make any invidious distinction on the branch of the service you represent. We merely wanted to emphasise the difference between combatant officers and those engaged in non-combatant work, necessary and valuable though that work is. As to your suggestion about a distinct decoration for those in the front lines, you cannot have read our Note on page 181 of our issue of May 19, which, apparently, exactly agrees with your wishes. You will see we deal with the matter again this week. The War Ribbon will quite well wait till we have smashed the Hun, but those who are invalided out after having "stuck it" as long as their physical strength could endure are justly entitled to be granted now some fitting momento of their services.

CANADIAN FISH FOR THE ALLIES.

The experiment of supplying the Canadian forces in this country with fish from the Dominion was so phenomenally successful that the scheme has since spread to the British forces at home and in the field, as well as to the Allies. No less than 14 million pounds of Canadian fish are said to be imported weekly to satisfy the home consumption and the demands of the Allied armies. The scheme has so greatly developed in recent months that a fleet of 30-knot oil vessels are now being built to facilitate the work of the Dominion fishermen. With the aid of these fast carriers, it is expected that the period between the netting of the fish and its delivery in this country will be cut down to about twelve days. Lieut.-Col. Hughie Green, who instituted the experiment under the direction of the Minister of Militia, now has his headquarters at Ottawa.

CANADA IN MOTION PICTURES.

A scheme having for its object the "filming" of a series of motion pictures is now under way in Canada. The idea is to provide a comprehensive and educative succession of reels depicting the scenery and outdoor life of Canada from coast to coast. The pictures will constitute a gigantic advertising scheme whereby it is hoped to bring vividly before the people of Great Britain the advantages of the Dominion as a place to live in. The scheme is expected to take at least two years to complete. A British firm has the work in hand.

For the Home for returned soldiers at Winnipeg, consisting of the old Agricultural College Buildings, the local representatives of the Canadian Military Hospitals Commission are desirous of decorating the rooms with British pictures from different parts of the Empire, such as Army, Navy and historical pictures, scenery, cathedrals, public buildings, etc. Navy League maps, Empire songs and poems would also be welcomed. Such gifts should be sent to Mr. C. W. Rowley, 391, Main Street, Winnipeg.

"MITCHELL'S PRESS DIRECTORY."

"Mitchell's Newspaper Press Directory" for 1917—the 76th issue—makes a strong appeal to the business community by reason of its informative articles, its valuable and accurate review of the world's Press, and its opportune suggestions for the extension of British trade. First and foremost, of course, the "Newspaper Press Directory" is a record of the newspapers and periodicals of the world. Particular attention has been bestowed on the Overseas section, which gives very full and reliable information regarding the Press of the British Dominions, no less than 129 pages being devoted to this division alone. The development of closer Imperial relations is discussed in "Empire Trade Tendencies." Other articles deserving attention are those on "Inter-Imperial Trade" and the "Import Trade of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Canada, West Indies, and India." The price is 2s. The Agent-General for Ontario, 163, Strand, London, W.C.2, has been informed by the Ontario Government that the value of the metallic minerals produced in Ontario last year was $54,936,605, and the non-metallic $9,906,992. The two together showed an increase over 1915 of over 10½ million dollars, or approximately 20 per cent. The increase in production was most marked in gold, nickel, copper, cobalt, molybdenite, and lead. This was in large part a result of the war and consequent high prices for metals.

Price Brothers and Company.—The annual report, just issued, shows that profits for the year which ended February 28, 1917, amounted to $1,240,485, of which bond interest and sinking fund and interest on 6 per cent. coll. trust notes absorbed $435,267, leaving net profits of $805,218, which equalled just over 16 per cent. on the Common stock. Of this amount $300,000 was distributed to the shareholders in dividends, totalling 6 per cent. on the capital stock, leaving a net balance of $505,218, which, with the addition of the balance from the previous year, $1,403,569, makes the total balance carried forward into the current year $1,908,707, subject to provision for business profits war tax. During the year $281,899 was charged to revenue in respect of repairs and improvements, and the general depreciation reserve was increased by $443,689, and now stands at $983,689. The vice-president reports that the pulp and paper branches of the business have, in common with other similar concerns in the Dominion, benefited to some extent by the increased demand for these products, and, despite conditions somewhat adverse to expansion, the lumber business has also proved profitable. The President, Sir Wm. Price, is on duty with the Canadian Forces Overseas. Of the company's employés, 65 have enlisted for Overseas active service, of whom, when the report was issued, seven had been killed in action and seven wounded.

THE WESTERN WHEAT CROPS.

Wheat seeding has been completed in Manitoba with the exception of a few isolated places, and 45 per cent. of coarse grains are also in (states a cablegram from the Minister of the Interior to the High Commissioner's office). The prevailing warm weather and ample moisture have caused rapid germination, and the acreage under wheat in the Province will compare favourably with that in 1916. In Saskatchewan 75 per cent. of the wheat has been sown, and the germination conditions are excellent. The wheat acreage is the same as that of last year. In the Province of Alberta 90 per cent. of the wheat seeding is completed, and 40 per cent. of the coarse grains. The weather is ideal for seeding and growing, and farming operations are being rushed.

The Bank of Montreal, London, has received the following cable from its head office in Montreal in regard to the Canadian crop: "Wheat seeding practically finished under highly favourable conditions; slightly reduced acreage. Other cereals satisfactory."
